- (e) If a person is concerned about an immediate risk to a child's safety, please contact Vic Beach Management on 0422 242 308 and if required, contact the police 000.
- (f) Child abuse can be divided into four categories:
 - i. Physical abuse: occurs when a child has suffered, or is likely to suffer, significant harm because of a physical injury, such as a non-accidental physical injury.

- ii. Sexual abuse: occurs when a child has suffered, or is likely to suffer, significant harm because of sexual abuse, such as when a child is exploited, or used by another for his or her sexual gratification or sexual arousal, or for that of others.
 - iii. Emotional and psychological abuse: occurs when a child has suffered, or is likely to suffer, emotional or psychological harm of such a kind that the child's emotional or intellectual development is or is likely to be significantly damaged; and
 - iv. Neglect: occurs when a child's physical development or health has been, or is likely to be significantly damaged. It refers to an omission, such as depriving a child of food, clothing, warmth, hygiene, intellectual stimulation, supervision and safety, attachment to and affection from adults, or medical care.
- (g) Child abuse includes any actions that results in actual or potential harm to a child, in circumstances where the child's parents have not protected, or are unlikely to protect, the child.
- (h) Mandatory Reporters
- i. Select classes of people in the community (including teachers, nurses and doctors) are required by law to report to the Child Protection Unit of the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) where they have formed a belief, on reasonable grounds, that a child needs protection because they have suffered (or are likely to suffer) significant harm due to physical or sexual abuse.
 - ii. This report must be made as soon as practicable, and after each occasion where he or she becomes aware of further reasonable grounds for the belief.

- (j) To form a reasonable belief, you should consider and objectively assess all the relevant facts, such as the source of the allegation and how it was communicated, the nature of and details of the allegation, and whether there are any other related matters known regarding the alleged perpetrator.
- (k) A 'reasonable belief' or a 'belief on reasonable grounds' is not the same as having proof, but is more than mere rumour or speculation.
- (l) You will have reasonable grounds to notify if:

- i. a child states that they have been physically or sexually abused;
- ii. a child states that they know someone who has been physically or sexually abused (sometimes the child may be talking about themselves);
- iii. someone who knows a child states that the child has been physically or sexually abused;
- iv. professional observations of the child's behaviour or development leads a professional to form a belief that the child has been physically or sexually abused or is likely to be abused;
- v. or signs of abuse lead to a belief that the child has been physically or sexually abused.

5.2 Voluntary Reporters

5.3 Reporting Child Sexual Abuse

- (d) If a person receives information that leads them to form a reasonable belief that a sexual offence has been committed in Victoria against a child (under the age of 16 years) by another person (of or over the age of 18 years), the person has a legal obligation to disclose that information to the Police as soon as it is practicable. Individuals who fail to comply with this obligation under the Crimes Act 1958 (Vic) may be subject to a penalty of 3 years imprisonment.

5.4 Vic Beach Approach to Reports of Abuse

- (f) If a person is uncertain as to whether they should make a report to an external authority in relation to the safety of a child, they may speak to the Vic Beach Director for guidance and information. If in doubt, ask for assistance.
- (g) If an allegation is made against a member of staff or volunteer, Vic Beach will follow its reporting procedure and take all steps to ensure that the safety of the child is paramount. An initial step will involve the withdrawal of the accused person from active duty, which could entail standing down, reassignment to a role without direct contact with children, working under closer supervision during an investigation, working from home, or any other measures deemed appropriate depending on the seriousness of the allegation.
